Justification:

Select one or more of the following to indicate why the requested change will be beneficial, giving your justification. Include and/or append relevant supporting data.

- Improve student learning outcomes:
- Adopting current best practice(s) in field:
- Meeting mandates of state/federal/outside accrediting agencies:
- Other: Remove SOCI 4100 (Sociology of the Family) as a WGST elective course. The course content does not contain enough women and gender issues to justify it as an elective. Add WGST 4100 Queer Studies as a WGST elective. This course will provide students with the opportunity to critically analyze and challenge heteronormativity structures and examine contemporary topics such as the formation of queer subjectivities, GLBT marriage, queer kinships, queer representations in popular culture, transgender issues, and sexuality in the military.

Source of Data to Support Suggested Change:

- Indirect measures: SOIs, student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc. Feedback from WGST minors requested the course.
- Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.)

Plan for assessing the effectiveness of the change in meeting program's learning outcomes (i.e., how do these changes fit within the current program assessment plan and what sorts of data will be collected and evaluated to determine if these changes are meeting stated program outcomes?).

Data Sources:

A description of fifty words or fewer is preferred.) An introduction to queer theory, looking at the cultural context from which it emerged, its central tenets, debates within the field, and the activist strategies that have been connected to it. This course analyzes and challenges how heteronormativity structures our world and the major institutions supporting dominant cultural ideologies. Anti-normative theoretical perspective will be used to examine non-heteronormative sexualities and sexual practices. Contemporary cultural and political topics such as the formation of queer subjectivities, GLBT marriage, queer kinships, queer representations in popular culture, transgender issues, sexuality and the military, and gay and lesbian culture will be examined.

This course meets the WGST minor requirement for a three hour elective. A minor is a specific area of study a student pursues in addition to her/his major. A minor compliments the major, giving students another area of expertise. A WGST minor provides students with a better understanding of the diversity of human thought, experience, and interaction which is easily transferred to the real world. An understanding of how gender affects both our perceptions and expectations of others makes students distinctive when they enter the job market or apply for graduate school. Employers and graduate schools are actively seeking candidates with an expertise in women and gender issues because they understand the positive value of diversity. In addition to increasing students' employment and graduate school marketability, a minor in WGST prepares students to be active citizens in their communities. WGST transforms the way students see the world and themselves in it. Students learn to challenge the status quo-including their own assumptions and to think more globally. A minor in WGST promotes the development of a social awareness that enriches the students' lives both professionally and personally. There are many practical applications for the WGST minor. If you would like to add WGST as your minor please come and talk to me.

TEACHING STYLE/PHILOSOPHY:

I use an active teaching style in the classroom. This means that you are an active participant in the learning process. You are expected to be prepared, to interact, and discuss the topics that are being taught on the given dates. My classroom and teaching style does not adhere to an experience in which you come to class, listen to lectures, take notes, and take tests. THIS IS NOT A CLASS THAT YOU CAN COME TO EVERYDAY AND NOT GET INVOLVED. Learning in this class comes in many shapes and forms. You will be expected to participate in discussions, exercises, in class small group work, and the active learning process. This class will rely on students' intellectual interchange and active participation.

I do not lecture straight from the readings. I get my lecture notes from a variety of materials but you are expected to read the assigned readings and be prepared to discuss what you have read. The assigned readings will significantly aid your ability to understand the lecture and will also enable you to participate more fully in the discussions. The test material will be taken from my lectures, class discussions, assigned readings, and videos.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

An introduction to queer theory, looking at the cultural context from which it emerged, its central tenets, debates within the field, and the activist strategies that have been connected to it. This course analyzes and challenges how heteronormativity structures our world and the major institutions supporting dominant cultural ideologies. Anti-normative theoretical perspective will be used to examine non-heteronormative sexualities and sexual practices. Contemporary cultural and political topics such as the formation of queer subjectivities, GLBT marriage, queer kinships, queer representations in popular culture, transgender issues, sexuality and the military, and gay and lesbian culture will be examined.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

1. To understand the context of the major debates occurring in queer theories
2. To analyze, interpret, and challenge the multiplicity of ways heteronormativity is entrenched in various cultures and institutions
3. To analyze the ways in which various forms of oppression based on such components of gender, race, class, and sexuality, intersect with each other within the U.S. and globally
4. To use the anti-normative theoretical perspective proposed by queer theory to think about its usefulness for contemporary cultural and political topics
5. To examine non-heteronormative sexualities and sexual practices

6. To examine contemporary cultural and political topics as they pertain to queer theories
7. To examine, analyze, and interpret gay, lesbian, and transgender cultures

Additional Readings: Additional Readings will be posted in Blazeview. The readings can be located in the WGST 4100 file by the authors' names.

OFFICE HOURS:

I have identified five hours per week as "office hours." This is a time when students can expect me to be in my office and available to them. Please use this time to ask questions concerning assignments, grades, tests, your status in the class, etc. Although I will be in my office at other times, I may be busy with other tasks and not available for students. Your best time to see me is to utilize my office hours. If you can not visit during my office hours please call or e-mail me for an appointment.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Absences from class seriously undermine student progress therefore, students are expected to attend every class. LATE ARRIVALS as well as EARLY DEPARTURES from class count as an absence. As per University policy (Undergraduate Catalog, page 83), "a student who misses more than 20% (n=6) of the scheduled classes of a course will be subject to receiving a failing grade ('F') in the course." The maximum allowed number of absences is SIX, upon the SEVENTH absence the student will fail this course. I do not discriminate between "excused" and "unexcused" absences. The only exceptions are approved and documented university excuses. I will keep a record of all student absences, tardiness, and early departures.

TARDINESS:

Class begins promptly at ---- and everyone is expected to be on time. Late arrivals and early departures from class count as an absence. If students decide to come in late, they are expected to enter the room in a non-disruptive manner. If late comers become disruptive to the class and instructor, they will be asked to leave. If being late becomes a pattern for the student, the student will be contacted as absent.

CLASS NORMS:

In this course, readings and concepts will be discussed that will challenge students to think beyond their experiences. Topics will be covered that may cause students some measure of discomfort. Students are encouraged to try and recognize the discomfort and to identify its source. Very often this discomfort comes from encountering information that forces students to rethink and renegotiate their individual "truths" and in some cases selves. This is a normal part of the process of growth and learning. Students are entitled to their own beliefs and opinions and there is no requirement to allow the material covered to change them. It is expected however, that students will use their critical thinking skills to analyze, support, or negate these realities. Please do not offer anecdotal evidence/experience as sufficient support to support/negate "truth."

Expression of individual opinions and free discussion is encouraged in this course. This demands tolerance (and respect) on your part for those opinions and ideas with which you do not agree. Tolerance for opinions and ideas does not refer to acceptance of prejudicial or demeaning remarks. Personally demeaning remarks will not be tolerated. This includes verbal as well as nonverbal responses and remarks that are racially and/or sexually offensive. Students who become disruptive in class will be asked to leave the class. It is expected that everyone will be respectful and conduct themselves in an orderly and professional fashion. Students will also work to remove racist, sexist, heteronormative, and gendernormative language and assumptions from their discussions. It is imperative that we remain aware of the biases that we bring to discussion and work to remove them from our language.

CELL PHONES, I-PODS, LAPTOPS, OTHER ELECTRONIC DEVICES:

As a member of the learning community, each student has a responsibility to other students who are members of the community. When cell phones or pagers ring and students respond or leave class to respond or text in class, it disrupts the class. Therefore, cell phone use (of any kind – voice, texting, calculator, photography...) is banned during class. Phones must be rendered inaudible (either turn them off completely or at least set them not to make noise) during class time. Five points will be deducted from student's grade each time his/her cell phone rings or he/she is caught texting.

Laptops will not be allowed in class unless students have a documented special need. Too often laptops are used to "surf" the web or facebook during lecture which is very distracting to students and the instructor.

ASSIGNMENT POLICY:

All assignments are expected to be turned in on time. If you have a problem turning the assignment in on time you must talk to the instructor BEFORE the project is due. The instructor determines the adequacy of the student's justification for the late assignment and will assess a late penalty of 5 points per day each day the assignment is late. Assignments not submitted by the due date and NOT EXCUSED by the instructor will result in an automatic grade of "0". Assignments must be turned in at the beginning of class. I DO NOT ACCEPT ASSIGNMENTS VIA E-MAIL.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY:

Cheating involves violation of integrity and the Academic Code of Ethics. Examples include, but are not limited to the following:

- a) Using unauthorized notes on an exam, test, or class exercise.
- b) Plagiarizing on a paper or class exercise.

Definition of Plagiarism:

- (1) you cannot use another writer's exact words without using quotation marks and giving a complete citation, which indicates the source of the quotation such that your reader could locate that quotation in its original context. As a rule of thumb, taking a passage of eight or more words without citation is a violation of federal copyright laws;
 - (2) it is not acceptable to edit or paraphrase another's words and present the revised version as your own work;
 - (3) it is not even acceptable to present another's ideas as your own-even if you use totally different words to express those ideas.
- c) Taking or procuring or attempting to take or procure an unauthorized copy of a test, exam.
 - d) Taking or modifying an instructor's grade book.
 - e) Copying from another student's exam, test, or class exercise.
 - f) Communicating with others during an exam, test, or exercise.

Whether the student involved is an active participant in the above, or the passive agent to the above makes no difference. In other words, assisting with and allowing the above to occur is also a violation of the Code of Ethics.

The act of student cheating dishonors the student, the student's peers, the faculty, and the entire academic enterprise. According to the departmental policy on cheating, "faculty feel strongly that academic cheating violates the integrity of the classroom environment." Also, as outlined in the VSU Student Handbook, students who cheat will receive "a grade of "F" in the course."

Also, the instructor may decide that further action is warranted, and the case may "be referred to the Dean of Students where [more severe] official charges may be drawn up." Students should consult with the instructor if there are any questions regarding academic honesty or dishonesty.

ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICIES AND PROCEDURES:

"Academic integrity is the responsibility of all VSU faculty and students. Faculty members should promote academic integrity by including clear instruction on the components of academic integrity and clearly defining the penalties for cheating and plagiarism in their course syllabi. Students are responsible for knowing and abiding by the Academic Integrity Policy as set forth in the Student Code of Conduct and the faculty members' syllabi. All students are expected to do their own work and to uphold a high standard of academic ethics" (VSU Undergraduate Catalog, 2010-2011, pgs. 100-101).

A. Academic Integrity Violations

Cheating and plagiarism are academic integrity violations. Additional violations may be added as deemed appropriate. The following academic integrity violations are not to be considered all-inclusive:

1. No student shall use or attempt to use unauthorized materials or devices to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class.
2. No student shall receive or give or attempt to receive or give assistance not authorized by the instructor in the preparation of an essay, laboratory report, examination or other assignment included in any academic course.
3. No student shall take or attempt to take, steal, or otherwise procure in an unauthorized manner any material pertaining to the conduct of a class, including but not limited to tests, examinations, laboratory equipment, and roll books.

4. No student shall sell, give, lend, or otherwise furnish to any unauthorized person material which can be shown to contain the questions or answers to any examinations scheduled to be given at any subsequent date in any course of study offered by the University, without authorization from the University.

5. No student shall engage in plagiarism, which is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were the student's own. Essays, term papers, laboratory reports, tests, online writing assignments, and other similar requirements must be the work of the student submitting them. Some typical examples of plagiarism are:

- Submitting an assignment as if it were one's own work when, in fact, it is at least partly or entirely the work of another.
- Submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from an Internet source or another source.
- Incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one's paper without giving the author due credit, e.g., when direct quotations are used, they must be indicated, and when the ideas of another are incorporated in the paper they must be appropriately acknowledged.

B. Academic Integrity Academic Response

Valdosta State University policy is that a violation of Appendix A, Section I may and should be handled by the professor, the student, and possibly the department head or academic dean concerned with the offense. Sanctions for an academic integrity violation should be outlined in the course syllabus.

Any faculty member who has documentation and/or suspects that academic dishonesty has occurred shall

(1) gather all pertinent information, and

(2) meet with the student or students involved, and

(3) inform the student or students of the academic response to an alleged violation of academic integrity. The faculty member will notify his/her department head and/or dean of these decisions and may also contact the Student Conduct Office in the Dean of Students office for procedural clarification if desired.

The most severe action that may be administered by any faculty member is a grade of "F" in that particular course. This is an academic response and not a disciplinary recommendation. A student who wishes to appeal an academic response to an alleged violation of academic integrity may follow the grade appeal process (weblink for grade appeal form).

<http://www.valdosta.edu/qradschool/documents/VSUFinalCourseGradeAppealForrev2.doc>

C. Academic Integrity Disciplinary Response

To initiate the disciplinary response process to an academic integrity violation, a faculty member should submit a Report of Academic Dishonesty, along with supporting documentation as noted on the report to the Student Conduct Office in the Dean of Students Office. This report shall be made part of the student's disciplinary record and shall remain on file with the Student Conduct Office in the Dean of Students Office in accordance with Board of Regents record retention policy. A student's file on academic dishonesty is not intended nor designed to allow access by faculty members seeking historical information or otherwise concerning a particular student. The purpose of the file is for the Dean of Students Office to determine if multiple cases of academic dishonesty have occurred during a student's academic career at Valdosta State University. If a student is found to have cheated/plagiarized and withdraws from the course prior to the awarding of a grade, the Report of Academic Dishonesty will still be placed on file in the Student Conduct Office. (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/documents/ReportofAcademicDishonesty.doc>)

After a second (or subsequent) Report of Academic Dishonesty has been submitted to the Student Conduct Office in the Dean of Students Office, official charges will be drawn up and the disciplinary matter will be referred to the Valdosta State University Judicial Committee. The VSU Judicial Committee will utilize the disciplinary procedures outlined in Appendix B, Sections II.-V. of the Student Code of Conduct. The most severe sanctions such as expulsion or suspension should only result from a VSU Judicial Committee hearing and can be appealed via Appendix B, Section V of the Student Code of Conduct.

Faculty members may request that a particularly serious violation of the Academic Integrity Policy (buying or selling papers, stealing an exam, significant plagiarism at the graduate level, etc.) be referred directly to the VSU Judicial Committee. The Dean of Students and the academic dean of the student's major will consult concerning the referral of a particularly serious first offense to the VSU Judicial Committee.

INCOMPLETE GRADES POLICY:

A grade of "I" indicates that a student was doing satisfactory work but for nonacademic reasons beyond her or his control, was unable to meet full requirements of the course. A report of "I" requires the subsequent completion of all course requirements within a time limit specified by the instructor, not to exceed one calendar year from the end of the term in which the grade of incomplete is assigned, regardless of the student's enrollment status during the period specified for completion. Students are responsible for making arrangements with their instructor for completion of course requirements within the time specified, in accordance with this regulation. If an "I" is not changed to a letter grade within one calendar year, it will be changed to the grade "F." The instructor must be contacted prior to the final exam for consideration for an "I" grade. The instructor determines the adequacy of the student's justification for the "I" grade.

ACCESS OFFICE FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:

The Access Office is responsible for coordination of services for students with disabilities. The primary objectives are to provide reasonable accommodations and assure that campus programs and activities are accessible to students with disabilities. Some of the services available to meet the needs of students include classroom and testing accommodations, textbooks in alternate formats, instruction in learning strategies, access to adaptive technology, and referral to other services.

Eligibility for provision of services requires students to provide current documentation of disability that meets criteria established by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents. All services are provided at no charge. If you have a learning disability, are visually impaired, hearing impaired, mobility impaired, or have other health-related disabilities which could impact your ability to meet course requirements, you are entitled to assistance at VSU. To receive services, the Access Office at VSU requires that you register in Farber Hall. Students requesting classroom accommodations or modifications due to a documented disability must contact the Access Office for Students with Disabilities located in the Farber Hall. The phone numbers are 245-2498 (V/VP) and 219-1348 (TTY). Students requiring classroom accommodations or modification because of a documented disability should discuss this need with professor at the beginning of the semester (first week of class). For more information please visit their web page: <http://www.valdosta.edu/access/>

STUDENT SUCCESS CENTER:

The Student Success Center (SSC) acts as a compass to help students navigate their college careers and get a bearing on success through tutoring, advising, and on-campus job opportunities. The services are free. The center is located in Langdale Residence Hall. For more information please see their web page: <http://www.valdosta.edu/ssc/>

MIDTERM and WITHDRAWAL POLICY:

Each student has the right to an evaluation of his/her grade prior to the end of the withdrawal period. If you are concerned about your standing in class, you should schedule an appointment with me to discuss your grade. Students may withdraw from courses following the drop/add period until mid-term by completing the withdrawal process on BANNER. A withdrawal before mid-term is non-punitive, and a grade of "W" is assigned. The last day to withdraw without penalty is ----(midterm). Students who withdraw from a course after mid-term receive a grade of "WF" (which is factored as a grade of "F)." A student may not exercise this right to withdraw to avoid sanction for academic dishonesty. Instructors may assign a "W" on the proof roll for students not attending class. It is the responsibility of the student to complete the withdrawal process. A withdrawal is official when it is received and processed by the Office of the Registrar.

LIMIT ON COURSE WITHDRAWALS (5 "W" POLICY):

"Effective Fall 2010, all undergraduate students are limited to five course withdrawal ("W") grades for their entire enrollment at VSU. Once a student has accumulated five "W" grades, all subsequent withdrawals (whether initiated by the student in Banner or initiated by the instructor on the proof roll) will be recorded as "WF." The grade "WF" is calculated as an "F" for GPA purposes. The limit on withdrawals does not apply if a student withdraws from ALL classes in a given semester before the mid-term point of the semester. Transfer students, regardless of their classification upon enrolling at VSU, are also limited to five withdrawals at VSU." Page 87-88 Undergraduate Catalog (2011-2012).

STUDENT OPINION SURVEY:

At the end of the term, all students will be expected to complete an online Student Opinion of Instruction survey (SOI) that will be available on BANNER. Students will receive an email notification through their email address when the SOI is available (generally at least one week before the end of the term). SOI responses are anonymous to instructors/administrator. Instructors will be able to view only a summary of all responses two weeks after they have submitted final grades. While instructors will not be able to view individual responses or to access any of the responses until after final grade submission, they will be able to see which students have or have not completed their SOIs, and student compliance may be considered in the determination of the final course grade. These compliance and non-compliance reports will not be available once instructors are able to access the results. Complete information about the SOIs, including how to access the survey and a timetable for this term is available at <http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/OnlineSOIPilotProject.shtml>.

ASSIGNMENTS AND EXPECTATIONS:

Exams: (100 points each)

There will be three required, in class, examinations. These exams will not be comprehensive; also, there will be no exemptions. Exams will be based on the assigned readings and class lectures. The instructor will review the basic types of items which students can expect on these examinations. ARRIVE ON TIME AS NO STUDENT WILL BE ALLOWED TO TAKE AN EXAM AFTER THE FIRST PERSON FINISHES.

Make Up Exams:

If you miss an exam (for any reason), make up day will be ----at ----IN CARSWELL HALL. Make up exams will be essay tests and will include readings from the class as well as lecture notes, videos, class discussion, group exercises. No exceptions.

Paper: (100 points)

The objective of this assignment is to give students a chance to research, discover, and explore a focused topic related to queer theory, gender, and/or sexuality. You will have a range of options for carrying out this project. You must develop a comprehensive argument supported by feminist readings, queer theoretical frameworks, theories, and concepts. Remember feminist scholarship includes intersectionality which is concerning how women's and/or men's lives are affected by gender, sexuality, sexual orientation, age, race, class, ethnicity, religion, national differences, and all other "categories of difference."

Papers should be well structured and should demonstrate your ability to analyze the problems you are writing on. The paper should contain no typos and no basic grammar mistakes. The essay should be typed on one side of the paper, double spaced, font size 12, and all pages should be numbered. You must have at least 10 professional, peer reviewed academic references. Use the writing style for your major. Papers must be a substantial piece of work, it is suggested that you aim for a final paper of about 20-25 pages.

Papers should be submitted as hard copies. I do not accept papers via e-mail. You need to bring a printed copy of your assignments to class. If for some reason you can not turn it in during class time please bring it to my office. If it is turned in to my office on the day it is due prior to the end of the work day (M-W: 5:30pm; F-3:00pm) it will not be considered late. Please make sure all assignments are stapled together prior to turning them in.

METHODS OF EVALUATION:

In general, a course grade of "C" represents an acceptable level of work. A course grade of "B" represents a substantial effort and achievement. It is clearly a grade for the better than average product and effort. An "A" is awarded only in cases of both outstanding efforts and quality in the required products.

Grades will be awarded on the following basis:

Percentage of Points

A = 90% to 100% of possible points
B = 80% to 89% of possible points
C = 70% to 79% of possible points
D = 60% to 69% of possible points
F = 59% and below of possible points

Scale

A= 400-360
B= 359-320
C= 319-280
D= 279-240
F= 239 and below

Evaluation for course grades will be computed according to the following formula:

TEST #1.....100 points
TEST #2.....100 points
TEST #3.....100 points
Paper.....100 points
Total.....400 points

GRADES WILL NOT BE POSTED. GRADES WILL NOT BE GIVEN OUT OVER THE PHONE OR VIA E-MAIL.

Justification: Select one or more of the following to indicate why the requested change will be beneficial, giving your justification. Include and/or append relevant supporting data.

Improving student learning outcomes: Course is specifically focused to improve students' ability to analyze the local and global impact of computing on individuals, organizations, and society, including ethical, legal, security, and global policy issues.

Adopting current best practice(s) in field: This is a typical course in any computer science BS curriculum. Many schools in the state of Georgia, in the region, and across the nation offer this course as an essential part of the program. A survey (sample size 30) has been conducted by the requesting faculty member and the document (ComputerEthicsSurvey.docx) is attached.

Indirect Measures: SOIs, student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc.

Direct Measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.) During the preparation of revising our learning outcomes and their coverages (for ABET accreditation purpose), it was found that other ABET accredited CS programs include a course on computer ethics which is not present in our current curriculum. It was observed, we are not only lacking this course but our coverage on ABET requirements namely, local and global impact of computing, and social and ethical issues in computing are negligible. Inclusion of this course in the curriculum will solve both problems.

Justification:

Select one or more of the following to indicate why the requested change will be beneficial, giving your justification. Include and/or append relevant supporting data.

- Improve student learning outcomes:
- Adopting current best practice(s) in field: Anthropology concentration will cover the four subfields of the discipline now that we have the requisite faculty with expertise for each subfield.
- Meeting mandates of state/federal/outside accrediting agencies:
- Other:

Source of Data to Support Suggested Change:

- Indirect measures: SOIs, student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc.
- Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.) In response to anthropology concentration student capstone survey results, the anthropology faculty decided to eliminate the requirement of SOCI 4990 and substitute a course in the fourth anthropology subfield. Given anthropology faculty's decision to eliminate SOCI 4990, the sociology faculty decided to move the course into the sociology concentration and thus increase the concentration to 18 hours. The course is always taught by a Sociologist (since there are more of them and most of the students are in the Soc. Concentration). Consequently, most of the content deals with Sociology and not Anthropology. Because of reason 1, when we did an Anthropology assessment questionnaire a year or two ago, students wanted to omit the capstone from our concentration. The Anthropology faculty has determined that it was relevant to the student's professionalization. Because the Anthropology concentration is so small, it did not make good sense for us to develop our own capstone. The number of students any given year would be small, and the faculty are having trouble covering existing courses at this time. (note that we have recently lost a position!!). Finally, the most important reason was that Anthropology is a four subfield discipline. At the time the changes were proposed, we had just added a new faculty member and had a faculty to teach in each of the four subfields. We wanted our students to have exposure to each subfield, so we added a new course requirement in Linguistics that replaced the old Capstone and thus didn't change the total number of hours in the concentration.

Plan for assessing the effectiveness of the change in meeting program's learning outcomes (i.e., how do these changes fit within the current program assessment plan and what sorts of data will be collected and evaluated to determine if these changes are meeting stated program outcomes?).

Data Sources:

- Indirect measures: SOIs; student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc.
- Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.) Anthropology concentration student papers will be evaluated in upper division classes. Alternating upper division classes will be selected each year.

Attendance: Regular attendance is expected. Course participation (attendance, discussion, etc.) determines 20% of the grade. Each unexcused absence will subtract ten points from your participation grade. It will be necessary to attend, as much of the lecture material is not covered by the textbook. Six or more unexcused absences will result in a failing grade for the course.

The final exam covers only the final third of the course. Test dates are September 15, October 20, and the final exam is Thursday, December 8 at 10:15. In addition to the tests, a short term paper is required. The paper should be 14 pages (plus/minus 2) on a topic of the student's choice. Term paper topics should be approved by the instructor. The topic and three sources must be turned in by Thursday, October 6 (Midterm). The paper is due Tuesday, November 29. The exams and paper each count 20% of the final grade. Cheating: Cheating will not be tolerated. Any student caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a grade of "0" on the test or paper. See Student Handbook for an extensive definition of cheating. Plagiarism is prohibited by University policy. "Themes, essays, term papers, tests, and other similar requirements must be the work of the student submitting them. When direct quotations are used, they must be indicated, and when the ideas of another are incorporated into the paper, they must be appropriately acknowledged" (VSU Student Handbook).

Problems: Anyone experiencing problems with exams, exam preparation, note-taking, or anything else of a course-related nature is encouraged to consult with the instructor during office hours. Should an illness or family-related problem keep you from class for an extended period, the proper procedure is to inform Student Affairs (333-5359), who in turn will inform all of your instructors of the situation.

Special Needs: Students requesting classroom accommodations or modifications because of a documented disability must contact the Access Office for Students with Disabilities located in room 1115 Nevins Hall. The phone numbers are 245-2498 (voice) and 219-1348 (tty). Please discuss your needs with me early in the semester.

Class Norms: Behavior that detracts from the instructor's ability to teach will not be tolerated. Talking in class, except for discussion directed to the class as a whole, is not permitted. Eating and drinking are not permissible in class. Please attempt to come to class on time, and do not plan to leave early. In return, I will do my best not to keep you late.

Statement on Disruptive Student Behavior

Disruptive behavior is student behavior in a classroom or other learning which disrupts the educational process. Disruptive class behavior may include but is not limited to the following behaviors: verbal or physical threats, repeated obscenities, unreasonable interference with class discussions, unauthorized use of a cell phone, or inappropriate use of computer in class, leaving and entering class frequently in the absence of notice to the instructor, of an illness or extenuating circumstance, and persisting in disrupting personal conversations with other class members. Student disruptive behaviors may also include threatening, intimidating, or other inappropriate behavior toward the instructor or classmates outside of class. Sanctions for such behaviors will be enforced in accordance with the Valdosta State University Student Handbook, Faculty Handbook, and may include dismissal from the course and the program.

Sources: Archaeology books are generally found in the E section on the second floor of the Library. Our library also contains the journals American Antiquity, Journal of Field Archaeology, and American Anthropologist which will provide additional references for your paper research. You are expected to use journal article sources for your term paper. Web sources (other than on-line journals) are limited to two for the paper. A term paper should have a minimum of ten sources. I will be glad to assist you in finding sources. The bibliography in your textbook is a good starting point.

Course Evaluations

At the end of the term, all students will be expected to complete an online Student Opinion of Instruction (SOI) that will be available on BANNER. Students will receive an email notification through their VSU email address when the SOI is available (generally at least one week before the end of the term). SOI responses are anonymous to the instructors/administrator. Instructors will be able to view only a summary of all responses two weeks after they have submitted final grades. While instructors will not be able to view individual responses or to access any of the responses until after final grade submission, they will be able to see which students have or have not completed their SOIs, and student compliance may be considered in the determination of the final course grade. These compliance and non-compliance reports will not be available once instructors are able to access the results. Complete information about the SOIs, including how to access the survey and a timetable for this term is available at: <http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/OnlineSOIPilotProject.shtml>.

This course reflects Sociology and Anthropology Educational Outcomes 1-4 (VSU Catalog, pg. 184)

Required texts:

Roc the mic right, (2006). H. Samy Alim. ISBN 978-0-415-35878-1

Other readings as assigned and made available through BlazeView.

Throughout the semester, texts, videos, recordings, presentations and discussions will be used as part of a multi-media learning experience.

This course will be conducted in the manner of a seminar and students are expected to come to class having read the material and prepared with salient discussion topics that will enhance discussion for all participants.

Assignments

This course has been designed to be writing-intensive, which means a variety of written assignments will be required, including three response papers on assigned topics and an in-depth research paper, with an affiliated annotated bibliography and a presentation. Each student will also be responsible for a brief facilitation for course themes and topics. Participation grades will come from a combination of announced and unannounced sources, which may include pop quizzes, structured activities, and others.

More details on these assignments will be posted on BlazeView.

This course will have a midterm and a final exam.

Missed assignments

The midterm and final have been scheduled, and only the most compelling reasons will be permitted an excused rescheduling of these. Plan as far in advance as possible.

Written assignments will be accepted at a 5% reduction in grade for every day it is late, up to seven days. Missed participation activities cannot be made up.

Some life events will be permitted an exception to papers and presentations. These include deaths and funerals, illness, and other occurrences. Document each time you think life might interfere with your educational deadlines—funeral homes do give notes. Per VSU policy, events such as jail or speeding tickets are not excused absences.

Exams will test students' analytical skills and knowledge of course content through objective and long-form response. Written assignments will include grading rubrics and instructions.

Classroom policy

Be as mentally present as possible. If you think about it, altogether, this class is about 35 hours. Spend it wisely.

Be smart and courteous with your technology.

- Netbooks, laptops, tablets, iPads, etc. are welcome for notetaking purposes. Cell phones are not.
- Students using electronic devices must sit in the front row.
- Silence your phones and keep them off your desk.

Do not text during class. Really.

Reasonable beverages are acceptable in class, but please be courteous and careful. Tobacco products of any kind are not appropriate for class.

Attendance will not be taken after the first two weeks as a rule. I expect everyone to prioritize coming to class, but if a problem develops, this policy is subject to amendment. Additionally, it is at my discretion to implement the VSU policy which states:

A student who misses more than 20% of the scheduled classes of a course will be subject to receive a failing grade in the course.

Accommodations

Please feel free to speak with me about any accommodations you may require to help succeed in this course.

Students requesting classroom accommodations or modifications due to a documented disability must contact the Access Office for Students with Disabilities located in room 1115 Nevins Hall. The phone numbers are 245-2498 (V/VP) and 219-1348 (TTY).

Academic Integrity

I will pursue any suspicion of academic dishonesty in the form of cheating on exams, copying and pasting in research or response papers, submitting work previously completed for other classes, submitting work that is not your own, either borrowed or purchased, or anything else that undermines an ethical and integrity-minded education. If any of the above seem to be a reasonable risk in the face of a potentially poor grade, see me first.

Academic dishonesty on a written work will result in a zero for the first assignment. A second incidence will result in the failure of the course.

For more information, consult the VSU Academic Integrity Code at <http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/AcademicHonestyPoliciesandProcedures.shtml>

- Classroom demeanor or conduct: Instructors should provide their expectations of students' behavior in the classroom and/or in situations outside of class or in online environments (i.e., use of electronic devices, classroom courtesy, etc.).

- Communication: Instructors should specify the appropriate channels for official class communication. All VSU-related correspondence should be conducted via VSU email addresses for both student and instructor.

Reading and assignment schedule:

Subject to change due to weather, illness, or other unforeseen situations. All changes will be announced in class and on BlazeView as far in advance as possible.

Improving Student Learning Outcomes

Adopting Current Best Practice(s) in Field

Meeting Mandates of State/Federal/Outside Accrediting Agencies We learned that the Professional Standards Commission in Georgia requires that any advanced degree teachers might use to earn advancement or permanent certification should clearly indicate the field in which the degree has been earned. As such, we have changed the name of the degree to more clearly indicate that it is in English studies and thus appropriate for Language Arts teachers seeking additional training in their area.

3. No course in which the student has earned a grade below a "C" will count toward completion of the degree.

In addition, failure to make satisfactory progress toward the degree could result in deficiency points as follows: the first instance of such a departmental determination by the Graduate Studies Committee equals 1 deficiency point; a second instance equals 2 deficiency points and immediate dismissal from the program.
5. If dismissed from the program, the student must wait a minimum of two semesters (not including summers) before applying for readmission. Students may submit an application for readmission in the second semester of the dismissal period (not including summers). 7. Students entering the literature emphasis without an undergraduate degree in English or an English minor or its equivalent must complete the following requirements prior to enrollment in graduate-level coursework: ENGL 3060; ENGL 3210 and ENGL 3215; ENGL 3110 and ENGL 3120—all with a grade of "B" or higher in each and prior to enrollment in graduate-level courses. Students entering the rhetoric and composition emphasis without an undergraduate degree in English or an English minor or its equivalent must complete the following requirements prior to enrollment in graduate-level coursework: three hours of either 3210 or 3215; and three hours of either 3110 or 3120—all with a grade of "B" or higher in each and prior to enrollment in graduate-level courses.

6. The maximum time allowed for completion of the master's degree is seven calendar years. No work completed more than seven years prior to degree completion will be accepted toward the degree except with special permission from the ~~Graduate Studies Committee~~ departmental GSC, the Chair of the English Department and approval by the Dean of the Graduate School.

7. No more than 6 semester hours of academic work may be transferred from another institution into a master's-level graduate program. This credit must be documented in the form of an official transcript at the time of admission. Transfer credit will be evaluated after admission by the departmental GSC. To be eligible, credit must be no more than seven years old prior to completion of the degree.

8. Students must receive a grade of B or better in the fourth sequence undergraduate course of a foreign language or a passing grade in a reading proficiency examination administered by the Department of Modern and Classical Languages in order to fulfill the requirements of the degree.

9. At the discretion of the Graduate Studies Committee, courses taken at the undergraduate level deemed equivalent to the above requirements may be counted as fulfilling the prerequisites either partially or in full. In addition, 4000-level British and American courses at VSU can be substituted for the 3000-level surveys, as long as the student takes two American and two British courses.

10. Students entering the rhetoric and composition emphasis without an undergraduate degree in English or English minor or its equivalent must complete three hours of either ENGL 3210 or 3215; and three hours of either 3110 or 3120—all with a grade of B or higher. These prerequisites must be completed before the student may enroll in graduate-level courses.

11. Students enrolled in the graduate program in English must complete ENGL 7000 and 7010 in the first semester they are offered following initial enrollment.

12. Students enrolled in the graduate program in English must make satisfactory progress toward the degree. The minimum standards for determining whether a student is making satisfactory progress toward the degree are as follows:

- * A student must take at least 6 credit hours per calendar year from courses that count toward completion of the degree requirements.
- * Over 50% of a student's credit hours in any given semester must be from courses that count toward the degree.
- * A student may withdraw from no more than two courses per calendar year before receiving deficiency points as stipulated in "4" above.
- * Students must successfully complete ENGL 7000 and 7010 in the first semester they are offered following initial enrollment.

Violating one or more of the above standards could, at the discretion of the GSC, result in the student being assigned deficiency points. The GSC will notify students in danger of being assigned deficiency points by the end of the drop/add period. Students may request a waiver from the GSC if so desired. The request must be made in writing to the GSC, explaining the rationale for the request. The decision by the GSC regarding the request is final.

Attendance Policy

Attendance is required – 30 points will be deducted for each missed class. Excused absences require prior notice except in special emergency circumstances. I understand that there are circumstances that require students to miss class, but we have a limited number of meetings. In the past unscrupulous students have tried to test the patience of the instructor, so, unfortunately, documentation is required.

Excused absences include:

1. Religious holidays (only the holiday). Your memo must be turned in before the holiday
2. Documented, necessary medical excuse or official documented legal excuse. Please note: the Student Health Care Center will provide you a specific type of note that indicates they believe you should have missed class. So don't miss class for non-emergency visits, because the note will reflect that, and the absence will not be excused.
3. Death in the Family: Documentation will be requested
4. Car accidents: Documentation, such as a police report, required
5. Course-related activity for other university classes – if dated letter of request is made by the professor before class on official letterhead
6. University competitive events – for athletes, not fans. Letter from coach required before absence.
7. Paid employee excuse – only with a supervisor request on letterhead. One of these allowed per semester – letter needed before absence

The following is a partial list of the types of situations that are not considered excused absences:

1. Social events
2. Meetings: including group meetings for other classes, meetings with other professors, meetings for roommate problems
3. Entertaining out-of-town guests
4. Holiday/travel plans
5. Family emergencies (if there isn't a letter from the dean of students)
6. Couldn't find parking, bus was late, I ran out of gas, kidnapped by aliens, etc.
7. Went out of town, couldn't get back in time, missed plane, car broke down, bad weather, abducted by cult, etc.

Students Needing Accommodation:

Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who will then provide this documentation to the instructor.

Requirements and Grading

Students will be evaluated based on four major assignments to be complete during the semester, along with evaluations for class participation.

Assignments

Each student must complete the following assignments. As each assignment nears, an assignment sheet with more specific instructions will be handed out in class.

Beat Coverage: Each student will choose a particular beat to cover (to be approved by the instructor). During the course of the semester, each student will complete the following assignments:

- Cover a live event and write a game story
- Produce a game-day advance on your beat
- Write a column related to your beat
- Write an analysis piece on your beat
- File a notebook-style story

(100 points each for a total of 500 points)

Sports Feature/Multi-media Presentation (Choose one):

1. Write a profile, trend piece or other longer feature article on an issue of your choosing in the world of sports. This will be a longer, more deeply researched article suitable for magazine or Sunday Sports Section publication.
2. Produce an on-line sports journalism piece using audio, visual or other content on a sports-related issue.

(200 points)

Off-Campus Assignment/Prep Coverage (choose one):

Off-Campus Assignment: You will choose a topic related to an off-campus trip the class will take to a sporting venue/team in advance of our visit and write a feature story based on research you do prior to the visit and information gathered while on site.

Prep coverage: Each student will cover a live high school event and produce a game story or feature.

(100 points)

Team Presentations: Teams of 2-3 students will select and research a topic related to sports journalism: the life and career of a sports journalist or a particular publication of note (a list will be provided) and give a 15- to 20-minute presentation to the class covering the subject's biography, notable accomplishments and discussing what significance they've had in the development of sports journalism. (100 points).

Class participation: This is an important part of the learning process. Please read and be prepared to PARTICIPATE in discussions. Please read and do some thinking in advance so you can present an informed point of view. Discussions are an important and significant part of the class because we can learn so much from each other. Justification:

Select one or more of the following to indicate why the requested change will be beneficial, giving your justification. Include and/or append relevant supporting data.

- Improve student learning outcomes:
- Adopting current best practice(s) in field: Modifications specific to the area of specialization in Workforce Education will update and strengthen the content of the degree to meet the needs of the profession. Modifications specific to the area of specialization in Career-Technical Education are reflective of the modifications to the other areas of specialization.
- Meeting mandates of state/federal/outside accrediting agencies: Modifications specific to the area of specialization in Business Education and Information Technology curriculum will meet SACS accreditation standards for instructors of Business Technology programs in Georgia Technical Colleges.
- Other:

Source of Data to Support Suggested Change:

- Indirect measures: SOIs, student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc. Much of the data supporting this proposal initially came from a number of technical college business technology instructors wanting to enroll in the Masters degree, but then realized the admissions requirements were prohibitive and the number of content courses were not sufficient to meet SACS standards. Additional data from student SOIs and faculty analysis of courses led to modifications for updating and developing new courses in the other areas of concentration.
- Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.)

Plan for assessing the effectiveness of the change in meeting program's learning outcomes (i.e., how do these changes fit within the current program assessment plan and what sorts of data will be collected and evaluated to determine if these changes are meeting stated program outcomes?).

Data Sources:

- Indirect measures: SOIs; student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc. SOI data will be collected and analyzed each time the courses are taught to provide indications of effectiveness and areas for improvement.
- Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.) Program assessment data will be collected on an annual basis to determine if the specified program outcomes are being met

1. It is the student's responsibility to visit the Distance Learning VSU Website at <http://www.valdosta.edu/vista/requirements.shtml> to ensure that all software and equipment requirements are met BEFORE the class begins. Please pay particular attention to the information related to pop-ups and JAVA.

3. For attendance purposes, students are required to access and participate in an academic event asynchronously over the Internet a minimum of two different days each week.
4. Students are expected to check BlazeVIEW announcements and email several times a week.
5. Students will actively interact with each other, the instructor, the content, and the BlazeVIEW interface.

LIBRARY

For students both on- and off-campus, the Odum Library offers full journals, books and other resources essential for completing course assignments. Go to <http://www.valdosta.edu/library/> or visit the library in person. Librarians are often available to help you in person or via live chats or email.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Absences, for whatever reason (excused OR unexcused), will be handled according to school policy as set forth in the Valdosta State University catalog. A student who misses more than 20 percent of the classes will be subject to receiving a failing grade for the course ATTENDANCE WILL INCLUDE REGULARLY SCHEDULED CLASSROOM TIME AS WELL AS REQUIRED ELECTRONIC CLASSROOM TIME.

LATE WORK

All work is to be submitted on time unless arrangements have been made with the professor prior to the assignment's due date. Homework must be turned in by the beginning of the class on the day which it is due. Unless prior arrangements have been made with the professor, late assignments will carry a penalty of 50 percent deduction of the total assignment points before grading. Work will be accepted for grading no later than one class meeting after the due date. Homework will not be accepted after that time and a grade of zero will be posted.

MAKE-UP WORK

There will be no makeup for examinations unless a student has made prior arrangements with the professor. If a student misses an examination and permission has not been granted for a makeup exam by the professor, the grade for that student's missed examination will be zero (0). Make-up work, quizzes, exams or alternative assignments will be determined by the professor and will be at the sole discretion of the professor. These assignments may or may not exactly duplicate the original and will not entitle students to the same alternatives since they may not have experienced the same situations. Do not assume you will be allowed to make up an exam.

PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING

Academic integrity is the responsibility of all VSU faculty and students. Faculty members should promote academic integrity by including clear instruction on the components of academic integrity and clearly defining the penalties for cheating and plagiarism in their course syllabi. Students are responsible for knowing and abiding by the academic integrity policy as set forth in the student code of conduct and the faculty members' syllabi. All students are expected to do their own work and to uphold a high standard of academic ethics.

Cheating and plagiarism are academic integrity violations. Additional violations may be added as deemed appropriate. The following academic integrity violations are not to be considered all-inclusive:

1. No student shall use or attempt to use unauthorized materials or devices to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class.
2. No student shall receive or give or attempt to receive or give assistance not authorized by the instructor in the preparation of an essay, laboratory report, examination or other assignment included in any academic course.
3. No student shall take or attempt to take, steal, or otherwise procure in an unauthorized manner any material pertaining to the conduct of a class, including but not limited to tests, examinations, laboratory equipment, and roll books.
4. No student shall sell, give, lend, or otherwise furnish to any unauthorized person material which can be shown to contain the questions or answers to any examinations scheduled to be given at any subsequent date in any course of study offered by the university, without authorization from the university.
5. No student shall engage in plagiarism, which is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were the student's own. Essays, term papers, laboratory reports, tests, online writing assignments, and other similar requirements must be the work of the student submitting them.

Some typical examples of plagiarism are:

- Submitting an assignment as if it were one's own work when, in fact, it is at least partly or entirely the work of another.
- Submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from an internet source or another source.
- Incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one's paper without giving the author due credit, e.g., when direct quotations are used, they must be indicated, and when the ideas of another are incorporated in the paper they must be appropriately acknowledged.

SEE STUDENT HANDBOOK FOR MORE INFORMATION ON ACADEMIC CONDUCT.

The consequences for acts of academic dishonesty in the Dewar College of Education are:

FIRST OFFENSE:

1. The faculty member will administer an academic response (e.g. resubmit / retake assignment, failure of the assignment, failure of the course). A first offense will usually result in an F on the assignment.
2. The faculty member will complete a Level Two Dewar College of Education Concern form (<http://www.valdosta.edu/coe/studentsinfo.shtml>).
3. The faculty member will complete a Valdosta State University Report of Academic Dishonesty (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/AcademicHonestyatVSU.shtml>).

SECOND OFFENSE:

1. The faculty member will administer an academic response (e.g. resubmit / retake assignment, failure of the assignment, failure of the course). A second offense will usually result in failure of the course.

2. The faculty member will complete a Level Two Dewar College of Education Concern form (<http://www.valdosta.edu/coe/studentsinfo.shtml>). According to the Dewar College of Education Concern Form Policy, "a second level two concern form will result in the student being dismissed from his/her program of study. This dismissal will result in an automatic review by the COE Undergraduate Policies Committee."
3. The faculty member will complete a Valdosta State University Report of Academic Dishonesty (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/AcademicHonestyatVSU.shtml>). According to the Academic Honesty Policies and Procedures document, "after a second (or subsequent) Report of Academic Dishonesty has been submitted to the Student Conduct Office in the Dean of Students Office, official charges will be drawn up and the disciplinary matter will be referred to the Valdosta State University Judicial Committee."

Warning: Do not turn in someone else's lab work or class work as your own or allow someone else to copy your work or your disk! This is cheating. It is wise to save all of your lab assignments on your disk. Do not access any files or directories other than your own or those requested by the instructor.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK STANDARDS (CFS)

The following College of Education Conceptual Framework Principle will be addressed in this course:

VI. PROFESSIONALISM: Teachers recognize, participate in, and contribute to teaching as a profession.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Upon completion of this course the learner will be able to:

- CO1. Describe the philosophical, historical, theoretical, political, and practical underpinnings of Organization Development as a core area of practice within Workforce Education; (VI)
- CO2. Discuss selected organizational learning and development models and other approaches, methodologies, tools, and techniques; (VI)
- CO3. Review, synthesize, and critique major streams of research related to organizational learning and development; (VI)

COURSE ACTIVITIES / ASSIGNMENTS / REQUIREMENTS

I. Field-Based Organizational Learning & Development Program Analysis: Students will conduct and present a field-based organizational learning and development program analysis conducted of an actual organization. This discussion activity is essential to apply and practice organizational learning and analysis skills and achieve the learning objectives of the course. (200 points) (VI)

II. Internet Threaded Discussions: The instructor will post issues and/or questions based on the topics and readings of the course on the course website. Each student must respond to the posted issues within the time frame as directed. Each student must then respond to at least three other student's posting with the established time frame. Finally, each student must respond to the reaction of fellow students to his or her initial response. This threaded discussion activity is essential to achieve the learning objectives of the course. Successful participation in the three threaded discussions will result in the awarding of 300 points. (VI)

III. Class Participation: Participation is very important. The participation grade is based upon: (a) active involvement and relevant contributions to threaded discussions, (b) thoughtful reactions to assigned readings and presentations; and (c) on-time completion and submission of all assignments. Different perspectives are welcomed and encouraged. Class participants are expected to treat one another with the respect and dignity to which all community members in a democratic society are entitled and nothing less than thoughtful behavior will be acceptable. If problems arise, please contact the instructor in advance as the situation permits (100 points) (VI)

IV. Update Discussion Activities: Each student will research and share with the class updated information related to the topic and readings assigned. Each student will share via email a one-page summary of an article from a published source with his/her classmates and lead an Internet discussion based on the information discovered. A copy of the article and the summary sheet will be submitted to the class and the instructor. This discussion activity is essential to learn the most current information and achieve the learning objectives of the course. (100 points) (VI)

V. Examination: A final examination will be based on course readings and class discussions. The final examination will emphasize the application of analytical constructs of organizational learning and development. Students are encouraged to draw from course readings, assignments, class notes, presentations and other instructional materials. (100 points) (VI)

COURSE EVALUATION

Assessment and Evaluation

Student learning gain will be formally assessed via the aforementioned assignments and examinations. The following is the course assessment criteria:

Field-Based Project Paper	100 points	12.5% (CO 4, 5)
Field-Based Project Presentation	100 points	12.5% (CO 4, 5)
Internet Discussions	300 points	37.5% (CO 1, 2, 3, 4)
Participation	100 points	12.5% (CO 1, 2, 3, 4)
Update Discussion	100 points	12.5% (CO 1, 2, 3)
Final Examination	100 points	12.5% (CO 1, 2, 4)
Total	800 points	100%

Evaluation of student learning gain will then be based on the following grading scale:

- A = 800 - 750 points
- B = 749 - 699 points
- C = 698 - 648 points
- D = 647 - 597 points
- F = Below 597 points

ASSIGNMENT SUBMISSION POLICY

All assignments and online discussion must be submitted or posted before or on the due dates. Penalty for submitting late assignment as follows:

- Minus by *20% - assignments and online discussions submitted or posted ONE day after the due date
- Minus by *40% - assignments and online discussions submitted or posted TWO day after the due date
- Minus by *50% - assignments and online discussions submitted or posted THREE days after the due date

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Since each WIMBA class meeting focuses on different learning topics, lack of attendance will result in a significant loss of learning and the loss of participation points. Should emergency situations beyond a student's control occur that prevent a student from attending WIMBA classes, advanced or timely notification to the instructor will prevent the loss of participation points.

POLICY STATEMENT ON PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING

The full text of this policy is found in the VSU Student Handbook's Code of Conduct, Appendix A, Section I. The following penalties will be enforced:

FIRST OFFENSE: The student will earn a "0" on the assignment, test, project, etc. A "Concern Form" will be completed and placed in the student's file which may result in an "Action Plan" to be completed by the student. A "Report of Academic Dishonesty" will be submitted to the Student Conduct Office in the Dean of Students Office. This report shall be made part of the student's disciplinary record and shall remain on file with the Student Conduct Office.

MEDIA

METHOD OF DELIVERY

This class will be delivered over the Internet using the BlazeVIEW (Blackboard Vista 8) platform.

- It is the student's responsibility to visit the Distance Learning VSU Vista Website at <http://www.valdosta.edu/vista/requirements.shtml> to ensure that all software and equipment requirements are met BEFORE the class begins.
- The instructor will provide announcements, readings, asynchronous discussions, email communications, and weekly assignments through BlazeVIEW.
- For attendance purposes, students are required to access and participate in the course in BlazeVIEW a minimum of TWO DIFFERENT DAYS each week.
- Students are asked to check BlazeVIEW announcements and email several times a week.

COURSE EVALUATION

Scores will be posted in BlazeVIEW within approximately one week of the due date of each assignment. It is the student's responsibility to check the gradebook in BlazeVIEW each week, and to discuss any questions or discrepancies with the professor no later than one week after a score is posted. The following grading structure for this course has been accepted by the ACED Department:

Final Grading Scale

895-1000 = A 795-894 = B 695-794 = C 595-694 = D below 595 = F

PARTICIPATION/ATTENDANCE POLICY

Only students who participate in required discussions, projects, and other assignments during the appropriate sessions by the deadlines set forth in the schedule will earn points for those tasks.

Absences, for whatever reason (excused or unexcused), will be handled according to school policy as set forth in the Valdosta State University catalog. The following points may be deducted from the final course average:

- 0-3 absences = final course average not affected
- 4 absences = 2 points deducted from course average
- 5 absences = 4 points deducted from course average
- 6 absences = 6 points deducted from course average
- 7 absences = 8 points deducted from course average
- 8 absences = 10 points deducted from course average
- 9 absences = 12 points deducted from course average
- 10 absences = student dropped from course with "F"

IMPORTANT NOTE:

One absence will be recorded any time a student does not participate in an academic event on at least two different days during a week.

ASSIGNMENT POLICIES

- Assignments are to be submitted before the stated deadline (usually midnight) on the assigned day.
- Late assignments will not be accepted. In an accelerated class, it is in your best interest to stay ahead of the deadlines—not behind.
 - If you have a SERIOUS problem that keeps you from submitting assignments on time, please contact your instructor immediately, who will determine if the seriousness of your problem warrants an exception to the late assignment rule.
 - The following are examples of what might be considered as exceptions:
 - Documented widespread power or Internet outage that also affects campus labs
 - Hospitalization or documented serious illness
 - Death in the immediate family
 - The following are examples of what may NOT be considered as exceptions:
 - Problems with your home or work computer or software (have a back-up plan)
 - Heavy work or course schedule, poor time management, or vacation
 - Late assignments that are accepted may be assessed a 50% grade penalty, before grading.
- As a safeguard, please save a copy of all assignments on your jump drive or computer until the end of the semester.

- Do not discard any assignments returned to you until you have confirmed that the grade is posted in BlazeVIEW.

LIBRARY

For students both on- and off-campus, the Odum Library offers full journals, books and other resources essential for completing course assignments. Go to <http://www.valdosta.edu/library/> or visit the library in person. Librarians are often available to help you via live chats.

SPECIAL NEEDS STATEMENT

Valdosta State University is an equal opportunity educational institution. It is not the intent of the institution to discriminate against any applicant for admission or any student or employee of the institution based on the sex, race, religion, color, national origin, or handicap of the individual. It is the intent of the institution to comply with the Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and subsequent executive orders as well as Title XI in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Students requiring classroom accommodations or modifications because of a documented disability should discuss this need with the professor at the beginning of the semester. Students not registered with the Special Services Program must contact the Access Office for Students with Disabilities located in Room 1115, Nevins Hall. The phone number is 245-2498.

COMMUNICATION POLICY

Student-to-Instructor and Instructor-to-Student interaction are critical components of any learning environment. While most of our communication will occur in BlazeVIEW Discussions (especially if it's something the entire class can benefit from), please don't hesitate to email me directly if you have a question or problem that you would rather discuss in private.

Any time that you are in BlazeVIEW, you can check to see if I have BlazeVIEW open. If I do, you can initiate a chat invitation if you need to talk to me. To help insure that we can communicate effectively throughout the semester:

- Please send your emails through the email tool of your course in BlazeVIEW. I will check this account frequently. BlazeVIEW email automatically provides a list of class participants (including your professor) to ensure that the message goes to the correct address. It also places a copy in the sender's BlazeVIEW email account.
- As a courtesy, ALWAYS include a descriptive subject line with your email messages and sign your full name at the end of your message.
- If for some reason the BlazeVIEW server is down, and you cannot access it to send an email message, feel free to use your @valdosta.edu email account to send a message to your professor at vrwhisler@valdosta.edu. You MUST include the course number in the subject line of your message, and be sure to type your full name at the end of your message.
- If BOTH the BlazeVIEW and @valdosta.edu servers are down, you may email me at vrwhisler@att.net.
- Students who include the word "QUESTION" or "PROBLEM" in the subject line of an email can generally expect a response within 24 hours (except possibly on week-ends or holidays).

PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING

Warning: Academic integrity is taken very seriously by the University. Do not turn in someone else's work as your own. Also, do not allow anyone else to copy your work or borrow your jump drive! In addition, when an assignment is marked "individual", that means you are NOT to collaborate with classmates. All parties involved in this type of activity will be held accountable, as noted in VSU and Dewar College of Education policies. Below is information directly quoted from the Academic Honesty Policies and Procedures:

Academic integrity is the responsibility of all VSU faculty and students. Faculty members should promote academic integrity by including clear instruction on the components of academic integrity and clearly defining the penalties for cheating and plagiarism in their course syllabi. Students are responsible for knowing and abiding by the Academic Integrity Policy as set forth in the Student Code of Conduct and the faculty members' syllabi. All students are expected to do their own work and to uphold a high standard of academic ethics.

The full text of Academic Honesty Policies and Procedures is available on the Academic Affairs website (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/AcademicHonestyatVSU.shtml>). Please study the following consequences for acts of academic dishonesty in this course:

First Offense:

The student will earn a zero for the entire assignment or exam.

Second Offense:

The student will earn a grade of "F" for the course.

Technology major include the clear identification of three concentrations: Technology Applications Concentration (for non-certified educators and trainers), P-12 Technology Applications Concentration (for certified educators), and the Media Specialist Concentration (for candidates seeking Media Specialist certification). One of the two technology applications concentrations of the Ed.S. in IT is the focus of this curriculum change. Specifically, this document deals with the Technology Applications Concentration and the addition of one course (ITED 8600) to the previous Ed.S. in IT Technology Applications curriculum, which constitutes an increase in total program hours from 27 to 30 hours.

Other: This Ed.S. IT Technology Applications Concentration would allow advanced practitioners to develop high level technology skills as leaders in learning environments.

Source of Data to Support Suggested Change:

Indirect measures: SOIs, student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc. Program inquiries indicate interest in the con.

Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.) GaPSC rule 505-3-.54, which was effective October 15, 2011, introduced new standards for the field of instructional technology. Standards differ from the ones to which the program was previously aligned. Consequently, current assessment measures and program objectives need to be redefined.

Plan for assessing the effectiveness of the change in meeting program's learning outcomes (i.e., how do these changes fit within the current program assessment plan and what sorts of data will be collected and evaluated to determine if these changes are meeting stated program outcomes?).

Data Sources:

Indirect measures: SOIs; student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc. Each indirect measure listed here will continue to be used as a measure to determine accomplishment of program learning outcomes. Individual items on the surveys will be aligned to directly reflect upon new state standards.

Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.) The Ed.S. Instructional Technology Program with the Technology Applications Concentration will incorporate the essential elements designated by the PSC for programs approved to offer certification in instructional technology as well as continue to assess the essential elements identified by NCATE as important and those agreed upon by the COE Unit.

The current Ed.S. IT program is approved by the BOR and SACS as a 100% online program. Our current Ed.S. IT program with the Technology Applications Concentration is 27 hours and culminates in an action research project. One course will be added to the program to make it a 30 hour program. Students who elect the Technology Application Concentration (as opposed to the Media Specialist Concentration) would have a core of six instructional technology core 8000 level courses (8100, 8200, 8300, 8400, 8500, 8600) as well as three courses related to action research in the field in which they work (8960, 8970, 8999). The current capstone presentation (reporting action research in ITED 8999) would be required of all technology applications candidates as well as successful completion of all program level assessments. These presentations are conducted in a synchronous online learning environment.

Applicants to the Ed.S. IT would be given information about the three concentrations offered in the program: Library Media Concentration, which is not included in this paperwork as it is not undergoing any changes and has been previously approved by the state, the Technology Applications (TA) Concentration, and the P-12 Technology Applications Concentration (P12-TA). Within the TA concentration candidates will not be seeking certification. The program of study and assessments will be the same for both candidates who are and who are not seeking a service certificate in instructional technology; however, candidates who do not have certification upon entry to the program will not be limited in their capstone research projects by the area of their certification and they will not be qualified for recommendation for certification upon completion of the program. Those admitted would be asked to declare the concentration they plan to pursue and their certification status. Advisors would be assigned based on the concentration, making it possible to keep track of assessment data by area of concentration. This would be necessary given the fact that the SPA for library media programs is AASL, while the accrediting agency for the EdS IT technology applications concentration program will be the GaPSC.

Other: This Ed.S. IT technology applications concentration would allow advanced certified practitioners to develop high level technology skills as leaders in learning environments and allow graduates to complete the initial instructional technology certification requirements concurrently. Instructional technology certification is a new certificate area in GA and given our previous track record of admitting 50 or more students to the Ed.S. IT program annually for the past 10 years (without a certification attached because the state did not offer one), we believe that the opportunity to seek the newly developed IT certification at the Ed.S. level would be highly attractive to Master's trained educators. Recommendation for certification would require successful completion of the Ed.S. program and passing scores on the instructional technology GACE.

IT technology applications concentration would allow certified practitioners to develop introductory level technology skills as leaders in learning environments and allow graduates to complete the initial instructional technology certification requirements concurrently. Instructional technology certification is a new certificate area in GA. We believe that the opportunity to seek the newly developed IT certification at the M.Ed. level would be highly attractive to educators certified in various fields. Recommendation for certification would require successful completion of the M.Ed. program and passing scores on the instructional technology GACE.

Source of Data to Support Suggested Change:

Indirect measures: SOIs, student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc. Program inquiries indicate interest in the new certification.

Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.) GaPSC rule 505-3-.54, which was effective October 15, 2011, introduced a GACE exam for the field of instructional technology and standards that differ from the ones to which the program was previously aligned. Consequently, current assessment measures and program objectives need to be redefined.

Plan for assessing the effectiveness of the change in meeting program's learning outcomes (i.e., how do these changes fit within the current program assessment plan and what sorts of data will be collected and evaluated to determine if these changes are meeting stated program outcomes?).

Data Sources:

Indirect measures: SOIs; student, employer, or alumni surveys, etc. Each indirect measure listed here will continue to be used as a measure to determine accomplishment of program learning outcomes. Individual items on the surveys will be aligned to directly reflect upon new state standards.

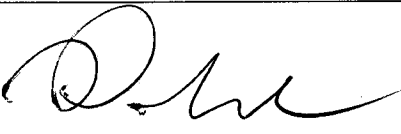

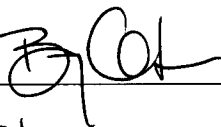

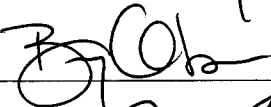

Direct measures: Materials collected and evaluated for program assessment purposes (tests, portfolios, specific assignments, etc.) The M.Ed. Instructional Technology Program with the P-12 Technology Applications Concentration will incorporate the essential elements designated by the PSC for programs approved to offer certification in instructional technology as well as continue to assess the essential elements identified by NCATE as important and those agreed upon by the COE Unit.

The current M.Ed. IT program is approved by the BOR and SACS as a 100% online program. Our current M.Ed. IT program with the technology applications concentration is 33 hours and culminates in an internship, but no certification is associated with it. One course will be added to the program to make it a 36 hour program and the specialization courses will be conducted in the area in which the candidate already holds certification. Students who elect the P-12 Technology Applications Concentration (as opposed to the Media Specialist Concentration or the Technology Applications Concentration) would have a core of five instructional technology core 7000 level courses (7100, 7200, 7300, 7400, 7500, 7600) as well as four courses related to the candidate's area of certification (CIED 7060, ITED 7050, ITED 7051, ITED 7052) as prescribed by the Ga IT certification statute. The current capstone internship (ITED 7399) and a cumulative Program Portfolio would be required of all P-12 Technology Applications candidates, as well as successful completion of all program level assessments.

Applicants to the M.Ed. IT would be given information about the three concentrations offered in the program: Media Specialist Concentration (MS), which is not included in this paperwork as it is not undergoing any changes and has been previously approved by the state, the Technology Applications (TA) Concentration, and the P-12 Technology Applications Concentration (P12-TA). Within the P12-TA concentration, candidates will be seeking certification. The program of study and assessments will be the same for candidates seeking or not seeking certification (TA & P12-TA); however, candidates who have certification upon entry to the program will be limited in their specialization courses to the area of their certification. Those admitted would be asked to declare the concentration they plan to pursue and their certification status. Advisors would be assigned based on the concentration, making it possible to keep track of assessment data by area of concentration. This would be necessary, given the fact that the SPA for library media programs is AASL, while the accrediting agency for the M.Ed. IT technology applications concentration programs will be the GaPSC.

Successful completion of the M.Ed. IT Program with the P-12 Technology Applications Concentration and passing scores on the IT GACE will make a candidate eligible for an S-5 certificate from the state.

Course Activities / Assignments / Requirements

A number of course activities are inherent in completion of the processes and products described in the Course Evaluation methods generally described below (more detailed descriptions of each Course Evaluation can be found on the course website). These activities include: Guided Reading (Course objectives 1-6); Independent Reading (Course objectives 1-6); Library & WWW Research (Course objectives 1-6); Literature Analysis (Course objectives 1-6); Review/Revision by Expert, Peer & Self (Course objective 5); Online discussions (Course objectives 1-6).

Course Evaluation

A. Area of Focus Assignment (20% of course grade)

You will identify an area of focus based on an educational concern/problem/issue regarding teaching and/or learning. You will then construct a search strategy to identify and evaluate 10 peer reviewed journal articles to support your area of focus. Each article will then be annotated and referenced. Detailed instructions and criteria will be provided at the ITED 7600 course website.

B. APA Skills Assessment Module (10% of course grade)

You will complete a skills assessment module based on the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association.

C. Discipline-based Literature Review (70% of course grade)

You will produce a short Literature Review:

- 5 page minimum/6 page maximum (excluding reference list and title page)
- Double-spaced
- 10-12 references
- APA format

The first draft of the Discipline-based Literature Review will be assessed for 20% of the course grade. The final draft of the Discipline-based Literature Review will be assessed for 50% of the course grade. The first and final drafts combine for a total of 70% of the course grade. The purpose of the Literature Review is to show clear evidence of developing mastery of course objectives 1-6 for ITED 7600. Detailed instructions and criteria will be provided at the ITED 7600 course website.

Grading Scale

Quality is expected in all products and performances. Given the percentage totals above, final grades will be assigned accordingly.

90-100=A 80-89=B 70-79=C 60-69=D Below 60=F

Assignments are due at the time and date designated on the Course Schedule unless otherwise announced by the instructor, or changed through prior arrangements made between instructor and student. A lateness penalty, consisting of 10% of the available assignment points for each 24-hour period the assignment is late, may be imposed by the instructor on all assignments for which no prior permission for late submission was obtained. Any assignment five or more days late will not be accepted and a "0" will be assigned as the grade.

Professionalism / Disposition

Within your coursework and fieldwork, you are expected to respect intellectual property, complete assignments with consistent punctuality, regularly attend class (online and/or face-to-face), make an effort to complete assignments completely and correctly, pay careful attention to detail in following instructions, show willingness to revise based on instructor or peer feedback, strive for creativity in devising products and processes, demonstrate enthusiasm in face-to-face and online endeavors, be helpful to peers, show self-reliance to enable independent progress/ completion of your work, display courtesy in written and oral communications, and exhibit cooperation in group work situations. As a professional, you should practice fairness based upon a belief that all learners can achieve.

Participation Policy

Students are expected to maintain a regular and frequent presence in the online course, particularly when involved in group projects and online discussion groups. It is the responsibility of the student to make sure that they have adequate equipment and access to maintain this online presence. Because students are being prepared to accept professional duties and responsibilities, attendance decisions are viewed as critical to developing professionalism.

Online work is generally conducted asynchronously, and does not require students to be online at scheduled times. There may be occasional synchronous class activities such as chats that will be scheduled at mutually agreed upon times.

Professional ethics, behavior, and quality are expected in all products and performances. Content copied and pasted from websites or other sources will not be considered original student work and may not be used under any circumstances without the use of quotation marks and proper APA citations. Any attempt to present the work of another as your own will result in failure in the course.

According to the Dewar College of Education Concern Form Policy, "a second level two concern form will result in the student being dismissed from his/her program of study. This dismissal will result in an automatic review by the COE Undergraduate Policies Committee."
3. The faculty member will complete a Valdosta State University Report of Academic Dishonesty (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/AcademicHonestyatVSU.shtml>). According to the Academic Honesty Policies and Procedures document, "after a second (or subsequent) Report of Academic Dishonesty has been submitted to the Student Conduct Office in the Dean of Students Office, official charges will be drawn up and the disciplinary matter will be referred to the Valdosta State University Judicial Committee."

Student Opinion of Instruction

At the end of the term, all students will be expected to complete an online Student Opinion of Instruction survey (SOI) that will be available on BANNER. Students will receive an email notification through their VSU email address when the SOI is available (generally at least one week before the end of the term). SOI responses are anonymous, and instructors will be able to view only a summary of all responses two weeks after they have submitted final grades. While instructors will not be able to view individual responses or to access any of the responses until after final grade submission, they will be able to see which students have or have not completed their SOIs, and student compliance may be considered in the determination of the final course grade. These compliance and non-compliance reports will not be available once instructors are able to access the results. Complete information about the SOIs, including how to access the survey and a timetable for this term is available at <http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/OnlineSOIPilotProject.shtml>.

1. Candidates will demonstrate an adequate understanding of the knowledge expected in their fields and delineated in professional, state, and institutional standards while simultaneously demonstrating professional growth and development. (GaPSC vi)
2. Candidates will use data and current research to inform their practices and enhance their leadership role in designing, developing, utilizing, managing, and evaluating instructional technology. (GaPSC i, iv)
3. Candidates will demonstrate the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to create positive environments for teaching and learning. (GaPSC ii, iii, v)
4. Candidates will understand and build upon the developmental levels of students with whom they work; the diversity of students, families, and communities; and the policy contexts within which they work as they model and facilitate best practices, digital citizenship, and informative program evaluation. (GaPSC iv, v)

Key GaPSC Elements at the core of ITED 8600 are related to Standard v

(v) PROFESSIONAL LEARNING & PROGRAM EVALUATION. Candidates demonstrate the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to conduct needs assessments, develop technology-based professional learning programs, and design and implement regular and rigorous program evaluations to assess effectiveness and impact on student learning. (CFS I-VI)

- a. Candidates conduct needs assessments to determine school-wide, faculty, grade-level, and subject area strengths and weaknesses to inform the content and delivery of technology-based professional learning programs;

- b. Candidates develop and implement technology-based professional learning that aligns to state and national professional learning standards, integrates technology to support face-to-face and online components, models principles of adult learning, and promotes best practices in teaching, learning, and assessment; and
- c. Candidates design and implement program evaluations to determine the overall effectiveness of professional learning on deepening teacher content knowledge, improving teacher pedagogical skills and/or increasing student learning.

Course Objectives-- Given the syllabus, course materials, and guidance from a professional, the candidate will accurately and/or appropriately:

- 1) Use research and theory for the selection and use of technologies for learning. (GaPSC v.a.)
- 2) Articulate the relationships within the discipline between theory, research, and practice as well as the interrelationships between people, processes, and devices. (GaPSC v.b.)
- 3) Create instructional or professional projects using technology resources. (GaPSC v.b.)
- 4) Design, implement, and evaluate training plans using current research. (GaPSC v.c.)
- 5) Utilize the research, theoretical, and practitioner foundations of the field in the implementation of instructional plans. (GaPSC v.b.)
- 6) Demonstrate proficiency in the prescription, implementation, and evaluation of treatments to maximize learning/performance outcomes in a variety of contexts. (GaPSC v.c.)
- 7) Demonstrate clear competence in oral, graphic, and written communication. (GaPSC v.c.)

Course Activities / Assignments / Requirements

A number of course activities are inherent in completion of the processes and products described in the Course Evaluation methods described below (more detailed descriptions of each Course Evaluation can be found on the course website). These activities include: Professional Development Project Plan (Course objectives 1-5); Professional Development Program Evaluation Report (Course objective 6); and Celebration of Findings (Course objective 7).

Course Evaluation

- 1) Professional Development Project Plan (400 Points, 40% of course grade)

A Professional Development (PD) Project Plan will be developed to guide the implementation and evaluation of a technology-based training program for deepening content knowledge and/or skills of employees within a business or school environment. If the PD Project Plan is to be designed for employees within a school environment, another consideration for the PD program may include improved student knowledge.

The PD Project Plan will include four components: Needs Assessment, Goals and Objectives, Plan of Operation, and an Evaluation Plan. The first component, the Needs Assessment, will focus on the development, implementation, and evaluation of survey data for determining a need within a workplace. Also, a brief literature review will be conducted to provide additional information about the identified need from the survey data. For the Goals and Objectives component, academic and professional learning standards along with desired measureable outcomes will be identified for the development of evaluation questions to guide the implementation and evaluation of the PD plan. The Plan of Operation, which refers to the instructional activities of the professional development project, will be based on the needs, goals, and objectives from the first two components of the PD Project Plan and it will reflect the characteristics of effective professional development. The final component of the PD Project Plan, the Evaluation Plan, will be developed in two formats, a chart and a narrative. Both formats of the plan will include outcome evaluations and process evaluations. Outcome evaluations pertain to measures that indicate the effectiveness of the PD project in regard to its goals and objectives. Process evaluations refer to measures which reflect the implementation of the PD project. The purpose of the PD Project Plan is to show clear evidence of developing mastery of selected course objectives of ITED 8600 (Course Objectives 1-5).

2) Professional Development Program Evaluation Report (400 Points, 40% of course grade)

After the development of the Professional Development Project Plan, candidates will implement and evaluate data from the PD training, and they will complete the Professional Development (PD) Program Evaluation Report. Components of the PD Program Evaluation Report include: Needs Assessment, Evaluation Questions, Plan of Operation, Findings, Discussions. The first three components of the report consist of information from the PD Project Plan; and the remaining information in the report is based on the collection, analysis, and discussion of data from the PD training program. The purpose of the PD Program Evaluation Report is to show clear evidence of developing mastery of selected course objectives of ITED 8600 (Course Objective 6).

3) Celebration of Findings (200 Points, 20% of course grade)

Candidates will develop a PowerPoint Presentation to include information about the development, implementation, and evaluation of their Professional Development Program Evaluation Report. Information for the presentation will include: Needs Assessment, Evaluation Questions, Plan of Operation, Findings, Discussions. The presentation will be shared with class peers in BlazeVIEW Live Classroom. The purpose of the Celebration of Findings is to show clear evidence of developing mastery of course objectives of ITED 8600 (Course objective 7).

Grading Scale

Quality is expected in all products and performances. Given the percentage totals above, final grades will be assigned accordingly.

900-1000=A 800-899=B 700-799=C 600-699=D Below 600=F

Assignments are due at the time and date designated on the Course Schedule unless otherwise announced by the instructor, or changed through prior arrangements made between instructor and student. A lateness penalty, consisting of 10% of the available assignment points for each 24-hour period the assignment is late, may be imposed by the instructor on all assignments for which no prior permission for late submission was obtained. Any assignment five or more days late will not be accepted and a "0" will be assigned as the grade.

Professionalism / Disposition

Within your coursework and fieldwork, you are expected to respect intellectual property, complete assignments with consistent punctuality, regularly attend class (online and/or face-to-face), make an effort to complete assignments completely and correctly, pay careful attention to detail in following instructions, show willingness to revise based on instructor or peer feedback, strive for creativity in devising products and processes, demonstrate enthusiasm in face-to-face and online endeavors, be helpful to peers, show self-reliance to enable independent progress/ completion of your work, display courtesy in written and oral communications, and exhibit cooperation in group work situations. As a professional, you should practice fairness based upon a belief that all learners can achieve.

Participation Policy

Students are expected to maintain a regular and frequent presence in the online course, particularly when involved in group projects and online discussion groups. It is the responsibility of the student to make sure that they have adequate equipment and access to maintain this online presence. Because students are being prepared to accept professional duties and responsibilities, attendance decisions are viewed as critical to developing professionalism.

Online work is generally conducted asynchronously, and does not require students to be online at scheduled times. There may be occasional synchronous class activities such as chats that will be scheduled at mutually agreed upon times.

NOTE: By taking this course, you agree that all required course work may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to SafeAssign, a tool within BlazeVIEW. For more information on the use of SafeAssign at VSU see SafeAssign for Students (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/SafeAssignforStudents.shtml>).

Professional ethics, behavior, and quality are expected in all products and performances. Content copied and pasted from websites or other sources will not be considered original student work and may not be used under any circumstances without the use of quotation marks and proper APA citations. Any attempt to present the work of another as your own will result in failure in the course.

Dewar College of Education Policy Statement on Plagiarism and Cheating

Below is information directly quoted from the Academic Honesty Policies and Procedures:

Academic integrity is the responsibility of all VSU faculty and students. Faculty members should promote academic integrity by including clear instruction on the components of academic integrity and clearly defining the penalties for cheating and plagiarism in their course syllabi. Students are responsible for knowing and abiding by the Academic Integrity Policy as set forth in the Student Code of Conduct and the faculty members' syllabi. All students are expected to do their own work and to uphold a high standard of academic ethics.

The full text of Academic Honesty Policies and Procedures is available in the on the Academic Affairs website (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/AcademicHonestyatVSU.shtml>). The consequences for acts of academic dishonesty in the Dewar College of Education are:

FIRST OFFENSE:

1. The faculty member will administer an academic response (e.g. resubmit / retake assignment, failure of the assignment, failure of the course).
2. The faculty member will complete a Level Two Dewar College of Education Concern form (<http://www.valdosta.edu/coe/studentsinfo.shtml>).
3. The faculty member will complete a Valdosta State University Report of Academic Dishonesty (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/AcademicHonestyatVSU.shtml>).

SECOND OFFENSE:

1. The faculty member will administer an academic response (e.g. resubmit / retake assignment, failure of the assignment, failure of the course).
2. The faculty member will complete a Level Two Dewar College of Education Concern form (<http://www.valdosta.edu/coe/studentsinfo.shtml>). According to the Dewar College of Education Concern Form Policy, "a second level two concern form will result in the student being dismissed from his/her program of study. This dismissal will result in an automatic review by the COE Undergraduate Policies Committee."
3. The faculty member will complete a Valdosta State University Report of Academic Dishonesty (<http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/AcademicHonestyatVSU.shtml>). According to the Academic Honesty Policies and Procedures document, "after a second (or subsequent) Report of Academic Dishonesty has been submitted to the Student Conduct Office in the Dean of Students Office, official charges will be drawn up and the disciplinary matter will be referred to the Valdosta State University Judicial Committee."

Special Needs Statement

Valdosta State University is an equal opportunity educational institution. It is not the intent of the institution to discriminate against any applicant for admission or any student or employee of the institution based on the sex, race, religion, color, national origin, or handicap of the individual. It is the intent of the institution to comply with the Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and subsequent executive orders as well as Title XI in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Students requesting classroom accommodations or modifications due to a documented disability must contact the Access Office for Students with Disabilities located in the Farber Hall. The phone numbers are 245-2498 (V/VP) and 219-1348 (TTY).

Student Opinion of Instruction

At the end of the term, all students will be expected to complete an online Student Opinion of Instruction survey (SOI) that will be available on BANNER. Students will receive an email notification through their VSU email address when the SOI is available (generally at least one week before the end of the term). SOI responses are anonymous, and instructors will be able to view only a summary of all responses two weeks after they have submitted final grades. While instructors will not be able to view individual responses or to access any of the responses until after final grade submission, they will be able to see which students have or have not completed their SOIs, and student compliance may be considered in the determination of the final course grade. These compliance and non-compliance reports will not be available once instructors are able to access the results. Complete information about the SOIs, including how to access the survey and a timetable for this term is available at <http://www.valdosta.edu/academic/OnlineSOIPilotProject.shtml>.

New Program Review

The New Program Review site enables University System institutions to electronically submit new program proposals for review at the system office. The review of new program proposals consists of a two-stage process: 1) the Program Prospectus and 2) a Formal Proposal.

Program Prospectus

A program prospectus is the initial submission of a potential degree and/or major that the institution deems a priority. The prospectus must meet a clear need for the University System, state, and service region of the institution and should be tied to the state's economic development and other major statewide initiatives (e.g., Complete College Georgia). The prospectus requires institutions to provide evidence of how a proposed degree and/or major meets various needs and does not warrant unnecessary program duplication. The prospectus is designed to allow institutions to submit program ideas for feedback without incurring expenditures of resources toward the development of a new program proposal. The prospectus will undergo a preliminary review through the system office. After review of the prospectus has concluded, an institution will be sent notification indicating whether a formal proposal is invited.

Formal Proposal

The formal proposal involves a full, detailed narrative of the proposed program. The formal proposal will require institutions to answer questions involving the following categories as delineated below:

- Program description and objectives
- Program's fit with institutional mission
- Program justification
- Curriculum
- Admissions criteria
- Assistantship availability (if applicable)
- Student learning outcomes
- Program administration
- Degree Credit-Hour Waiver (if applicable)
- Projected enrollments
- Faculty inventory and workload
- Fiscal and Facilities Impact with Estimated Budget
- New and Online Program Delivery Questions (if applicable)

Submitting Information Online

Program Prospectus: To submit a program prospectus, go to the left hand side of this page and from the menu locate the item entitled "New Program Prospectus." In order to access the online prospectus submission box, use the "Respond to this Survey" feature. A drop-down menu of institutions by name is provided for institutional use. A text box is also available for institutions to provide a prospectus for preliminary review. It is recommended that institutions develop the prospectus and save it as a MS word document before submission. Information can then be transferred as needed to the text box provided.

Formal Proposal: A formal proposal can be submitted only after an institution has received a satisfactory preliminary review of a prospectus. Access to submit a formal proposal and append documents is available on the left hand side of this page entitled "New Program Formal Proposals." Forms are available in MS word to develop a formal proposal and can be found under the category labeled as "Forms/Supporting Documents for Institutions." Use the "Add Document" feature to begin the process of submitting a formal proposal. Aside from institutional and program identifiers, a formal proposal will be appended to the online site as a .pdf or MS Word document. Additional support documents may be attached as well such as technical reports, reports of accreditation bodies, and other related information.

Technical note: To complete submission of a formal proposal, click save, then name the program, and then click close. The naming convention for programs submitted should be Institution - Program Name (example: X College - Bachelor of Science with a major in Z).
