Course Description

An introduction to the organization of recordable knowledge, with emphasis on library cataloging and classification. Students will examine current applications of Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, MARC formats, Library of Congress and Sears Subject Headings, Dewey Decimal Classification and Library of Congress Classification as well as Resource Description and Access (RDA). Metadata initiatives and the interpretation of technical documentation will be considered.

Learning Outcomes (LO)

At the conclusion of the course, the student will be able to:

1. Identify and discuss the functions of the library catalog.
2. Describe a cataloging, technical services, or metadata workplace.
3. Interpret and create basic descriptive bibliographic records.
4. Define and explain the value of authority control and cross-referencing structure for names, uniform titles, and subject headings.
5. Identify current metadata initiatives.
6. Interpret Dewey and Library of Congress call numbers.
7. Discuss the impact of cataloging decisions on patron access to library materials.
8. Discuss considerations in cataloging, classification, and catalog design for the provision of service to diverse and traditionally underserved patrons.
9. Locate, interpret, and apply standards documentation, with special attention to AACR2 and RDA.
10. Discuss research findings and research literature related to cataloging, classification, and metadata.

Course Prerequisite or Corequisite: MLIS 7000 or consent of instructor.

Words of Comfort: If the material in this course seems confusing, please don't worry. Previous students have compared this to learning a new language. A feeling akin to "culture shock" is common at first. Keep going and do your best. You typically will have a "eureka" moment somewhere along the line, when you will say, "Oh! Now I get it!" Keep the faith until then ☺.

Literature reviews	(LO 5, 10)	10 points
Tour	(LO 2, 7)	15 points

Each assignment will have a due date, followed by a one-day grace period.

If an assignment is submitted after the grace period has expired, I will grade it if I have time, but I reserve the right not to accept it.

To assure yourself a chance to get at least some points for the assignment, turn it in before the grace period ends.

Grading Scale

There are 100 points possible in the course.

Course grades will be assigned as follows:

A = 91-100 points = excellent work, better than most at the graduate level

B = 81-90 points = consistently good but not outstanding work

C = 71-80 points = perfunctory, incomplete, work that is below expectations

Course grades lower than C will not be credited to a graduate degree (VSU 2008-2009 Graduate Catalog, page 16). Because MLIS 7300 is a required course, students who earn a course grade lower than C must repeat this course and get a better grade in order to complete the MLIS degree.

You may drop the course without academic penalty on or before Monday, July 5, 2010.

As discussed on page 30 of the 2009/10 Graduate Catalog, "Students may appeal for an exception to the withdrawal deadline for cases of medical and hardship issues."

MARC field of the Week assignments are brief exercises designed to familiarize you with different aspects of bibliographic records and their encoding in MARC (Machine Readable Cataloging) format. You will be given one per week. There is some overlap between these exercises and the online tutorials. This repetition is deliberate. You should do both.

MARC Field of the Week assignments are due on Mondays by 11:59 p.m.

Cataloging assignment is a simulated hands-on cataloging exercise that will build upon your MARC Field of the Week activities. Details will be posted in BlazeView.

Attendance

This is a Web-delivered course, with no required face-to-face meetings. The Tour assignment includes a required presentation within Live Classroom; this will be scheduled in consultation with class members.

Technical Requirements

All assignments must be submitted using computer programs that are compatible with VSU supported products. For word processed documents, MS Word is the preferred format. If you are using a lower version of WordPerfect or some other word processor, save your documents in Rich Text Format (rtf).

When reading instructions for your assignments, notice whether the instructions say to paste your response into a message box or to use a file attachment. Also notice whether the instructions say to choose Reply or to create a new message.

When the directions say to paste into a BlazeView message box, compose your response in your word processor first. This will help avoid the agony of being “timed out” and losing your work.

Grammar, punctuation, and spelling count. Use spell check.

Communication

For questions regarding the course, please communicate with me through the WebCT site for this course. If your question is personal, please use the WebCT course mail feature. If you have a general question whose answer may be of interest to your classmates, please post it to the “Questions” topic on the discussion boards.

Academic Honesty

"Valdosta State University expects that graduate students will pursue their academic endeavors and conduct themselves in a professional and ethical manner. All work that a student presents to satisfy course requirements should represent his or her own efforts, including appropriate use and acknowledgement of external sources." Please review VSU's full policy on student conduct and behavior at <http://coefaculty.valdosta.edu/troot/eced4300/Academic%20Dishonesty.doc>.

Unless an assignment is specifically designated as a group or collaborative activity, anything submitted under your name should be solely your own work. If you are unsure about the parameters of an assignment, ask for clarification.
